Re: Boshart as an essential service during COVID-19 pandemic

We are all going through difficult and uncertain times right now amongst the COVID-19 pandemic. Our industry has been deemed an essential service so we can continue to support critical infrastructure to ensure consistent and regular access to the materials needed for ongoing construction, maintenance and repairs.

We supply products that are considered essential to water and wastewater markets which are especially important during this time and we will remain open.

A link to the full list of services that the Government of Ontario has deemed essential can be found at: <https://news.ontario.ca/opo/en/2020/03/list-of-essential-workplaces.html>

The health and safety of our employees and customers has always been top priority but especially now, we have implemented several extra precautionary measures to ensure safety including limited access to our office and warehouses for customers and vendors.

As we all navigate through this, we recognize how valued and appreciated our customers are. We are proud to be in a position to stay open and continue to offer our services for you. It's important that we all get through this united and strong.

Thank you for your continued support during these challenging times.
